

Audio Learning Center, If You Choose

If you choose to walk away
I'll try and understand Something's once said can't be undone
I wish that I'd realized that

Can tell by the look in
Your eyes that you think We'll never break these circles of Disfunctions we Continually
Seem to be dying from

So if you choose to go
To cut the lines that bind you to me
You'll fade away,
you'll fade away from me

I played it out
In my head
Tried to pinpoint exactly where We'd gone wrong
And when I'm done
I realized I was to blame

So if you choose to go
To cut the lines that bind you to me
You'll fade away
you'll drift away from me

But I'll always love you
And that will always be
and that always will be true
And as you start again

Over without me
Know I'll always be You'll always be

Looking back through in photo albums of Pictures of you
I noticed things the second time around Guess I was too blind then

I should've been there more than I was Took you for granted
I know things did not turn out quite the way we planned the way we planned them

Can tell by the look in
Your eyes that you think
We'll never break these
circles of
Disfunctions we Continually
Seem to be dying from

But I'll always love you

And that will always be
and that always will be true
And as you start again
Over without me
Know I'll always be
You'll always be