Audrey De Montigny, Someone Who Believes In Y

I know you've made mistakes
But you're human we all break down we cry and try again sometimes no one understands

All the things you do What you're going through, seems like You been out there on your own know, you've never been alone, cuz I've been with you all along Trusting in all that you do. I'm someone who believes in you

And I'm sure you wish you heard more understanding words Someone that's there for you A helping hand to reach out to

When you were feeling low In a world so cold, it's like The sun is never gonna shine

know, you've never been alone, cuz I've been with you all along Trusting in all that you do. I'm someone who believes in you

Seems like a million miles away - But sometimes what we need is closer than than it seems and know, you've never been alone, cuz I've been with you all along
