

Aurora Borealis, Draco

Images in the night sky, casting spells on those who gaze into the night sky,
I see mystique and chaos in the lights,
In the night sky leaving trails that linger across the night sky, Graceful they seem as they dance along the black

As they dance along the black

Blazing through the stars, shining within the arctic landscapes
Behold this phenomenon's beauty, Arise within the Northern horizon

Discern, I am the lights, they are with me, inhabiting inside the verve feeling the sense see how they gleam with luminous rays through the air curtain of light opening slow revealing tales of long ago forever will the glisten be upon the land not faltering, Never will the shining fade until the end,

The end of time

Blazing through the stars, shining with the arctic landscapes
Behold this phenomenon's beauty, Arise within the Northern horizon
