

Aurora, New God Rising

Greatest species on Mother Earth were you and I I greeted hallucinations and you holy survived I seek meaning of life I walked wind and fire We created a world so fertile that we someday could feed our forthcoming children and later watch them bleed I was fragile and naive and comfortably numb present
I pinned a dead faith to a lifeless yellow blessing Forced the highest dignity through a self-hand-made divinity Who was Untouchable and mighty as a king but weak as my sex and my sin
I was enlightened by fear Capture of solemn tears Endeavour of infinity Devoted to philosophy

"Solo: Broberg";

I crushed the ancient mirror and created a new one Manufactured my own God machine based on mortal men philosophies Pinned my life to this God machine and killed the artificial one Now everyone I knew is Gobe
