

Austin Cunningham, I Don't Think I Want You Any

Austin Cunningham
Let That Poor Boy Sing
I Don't Think I Want You Anymore
I dont think I want you anymore
I dont think that who you are is what Im lookin for How many times can one heart try
While the other slams the door
So I dont think I want you anymore

Gonna find myself a new road to walk down
One to take my weary heart
Where happiness is found
You keep diggin potholes I cant weave my way around
Gonna find myself a new road to walk down

Chorus:
Like a beggar always hangin round your table
You gave me just enough to make me stay
Until now I never was quite able
To push through all these tears and walk away

I dont think Ill forget you when Im gone
Youll be a cross Ill have to bear
Long after Ive moved on
Youll linger in the shadows of my soul like a song
I dont think Ill forget you when Im gone

There'll always be a part of you
That my heart will adore
But I dont think I want you anymore
