

Autolux, Here Comes Everybody

They still look at you like a lost battalion calling on all downs that you once made home my apologies to your lost battalion they still look at you like your loss is so great

sha la la
let's go let's go

soft soft silver bang like a banks hydraulics the air it hangs its head and your cat has passed out you polished off your thoughts in the banks hydraulics soft soft silver bang when the vaults are all shut

sha la la
down so let down and down again
the doubt it takes you down another step down you feel so down that all you think
sha la la

here comes everybody from the outside they all want the same things that you hate turn your face back on and crack a smile here comes everybody you never cared for

sha la la
let's go let's go
your only alibi comes just like sha la la sha la la

they won't be happy for you
