

Autovein, Head High

Somebody tell me where all this insanity ends
Show me a place where we all see the faces of friends
Promises broken and lies are all spoken at will
Brothers and sisters; we're armed and we're ready to kill

Somebody's waiting
Head high
Somebody wake me and open my eyes

We're paving the streets with a road that defeats us in time
Savoring weaknesses, drowning our spirits in wine
Bullets and bruises and everyone loses
And mothers are down on their knees
All of our turning our heads while society bleeds

Somebody's waiting
Head high
Somebody wake me and open my eyes
Head high
Somebody wake me
Head high
Somebody wake me and open my eyes
Head high
Somebody wake me
