

Autumn Clan, Through

There's a time beyond the time, a place beyond a place I fall asleep, I'm in too deep and I feel nothing

I surrender all the feelings and all things above I remember - saved by sex and punished with love

... but nothing gets me through and through just like you I wanna come and play my part loving starts, loving stops

My heart is broken, all things are spoken nothing satisfies me
I try to run, I try to stop it
I try to believe

I look at the cross, I see your skin
I feel your suffering
I look in your eyes, I'm watching your tears would you cry again?
