[The Beautiful:]

Hear me... O valiant sister, reveal to me, this archaic image

Awakened, I find no passage within these arcane illusions

Hath I but found my eternity manifested within me

This mask of shattered divinity do I now wear

Endless black skies surround my freedom

The ravens cry out for my undoing, how beautiful their songs are to me

Hopelessly, I envision fragile winds sweeping away my spirit

Leaving behind my barren epitaph, taking me to my eternity... my garden

Vanquished foes, fear not my destiny

Take this empty shell which is my body

And free my dying brood from endless millennia

One child, one god, one wish, one dream, one heart, one life, one final victory

O hear me... I'm in pain
