

Avail, Simple Song

Going over in my head
What seems like everything
Remembering commitments
That nowadays just blend
I don't know where im going
And i don't think that i care
I had my taste wound up misplaced
Bounced off those troubles clear

Did i trip myself up again?
Did i see more than you did?
Did i trip myself up again?
Did i see more than you did?

Decisions made without regard i knew returning as regret
They could but thought they would
Come crashing with success
They know nothing about me
And i really doubt they care
But that's alright cause by myself
I do fine anywhere

Did i trip myself up again?
Did i see more than you did?
Did i trip myself up again?
Did i see more than you did?

It seems like i shouldn't have pushed it
Hid myself and lost focus for a change
Shouldn't have made myself committed
I got to know that one by now
I'm better off without
