

Avenged Sevenfold, Crossroads

I've been traveling for so long,
so lost 'til I stumbled upon
two roads in front of me,
I had to take my time.
To the right I could see a church,
I took a step in that direction first.
But to the left there was a watering hole where they were wasted, drunk and now that's where I wanna be.

The fire down here goes on and on.

If I was perfect, then this would be easy.
Either road's plausible, on both I could drown.
I walk through the center with no rules to guide me.
I realize it's difficult, but now I can see.

There's gotta be another way to go,
one that's much more feasible.
A combination of all these lies
I'll set your path without choosing a side.

I make decisions one at a time.
And though I'll never say, I'm always right.
I'm confident that when I stand on my own
You'll see the truest form of a man when I'm shining through.

The fun down here goes on and on.

If I was perfect, then this would be easy.
Either road's plausible, on both I could drown.
I walk through the center with no rules to guide me.
I realize it's difficult, but now I can see.

Oh, I hear them now, all the religious cries.
(Your a sinner)
(Your a sinner)
(Your a sinner)

The left isn't better, it's just more of the same.
Condemning all these people for what they believe.
I'll climb to the top of the mountain again.
No harness is going to save me this way.
And the closer to the top I get, the more they take aim.

But I'm not you.
I may not be perfect but I've always been true.
I may not be worthy in your eyes.
Climb up from the bottom for the last time.
The last one, the last one, the last time.

If I was perfect, then this would be easy.
Either road's plausible, on both I could drown.
I walk through the center with no rules to guide me.
I realize it's difficult, but now I can see.
