

Averi, In Tune

Remember 3am?
Dancing in your living room
With some candles and the moon?
I was slightly drunk and we were both high
Dancing in tune.
Would I be alone in assuming that we two,
Will never be where we were that night,
The night I fell for you?

Do you dream the things I dream?
Do you ever think of me?
And if all this could change,
Would you still want it the same?

Would I be alone in assuming that you
Will never be where you were that night
Standing in tune with all the thoughts we shared underneath
A silver moon?
Where the stars danced to the rhythm of our breath
Forever in tune?

You retreated so I quietly sheathed my words.
We're not speaking but I'm still feeling the hurt.

Do you dream the things I dream?
Do you ever think of me?
And if all this could change,
Would you still want it the same?

It all comes down to these one night love affairs.
Do you remember, like I do, these things we couldn't share?
And now I'm hoping that you'll tell me I'm wrong,
But I know that I can't hold my breath for that long.

Do you dream the things I dream?
Do you ever think of me?
And if all this could change,
Would you still want it the same?

Here I go mixing wishing and thinking and hoping again
