

Avion, Love Is Here Again

The birds have flown
Still on the phone
Recounting how the years have passed
Like winds that bring a change

You're moving on
I know you're strong enough
To learn the steps to dance
An unexpected waltz

Love is here again
Like a long lost friend
Walking up the path unto your door
Love is here again
To come and make amends
Awakening your soul

I heard you say
This brand new day
You're grateful for the second chance
As heaven smiles on you

Love is here again
Like a long lost friend
Walking up the path unto your door
Love is here again
To come and make amends
Awakening your soul

Like the joining of two candles in the dark
It feels like striking gold again
Together shining brighter than when they're apart
