

Avril Lavigne, All I Wanted (feat. Mark Hoppus)

I was always crushing on the wrong boys
I was always yelling when I should've been sitting down
Memories are singing, written polaroids
Kiss you in the kitchen of our house that burned down
I remember waiting on the sunrise
And I'll be ready, waiting 'til you come back around
Come back around, come back around

All I wanted was you, let's do whatever it takes
Me and you, we can't lose, I'll take you away from here
From the city that never loved you, from the town I always hated
Me and you, we can't lose (Let's go)

Woah, oh, oh
Woah, oh, oh
Woah, oh, oh
All that I wanted was you

I would always fuck around and find out
You were always saying I would crash down someday
I would have to pass out on our friends couch
We were up all night so we slept all day
I remember waiting on the sunrise
And I'll be right here waiting 'til you come back around
Come back around, come back around

All I wanted was you, let's do whatever it takes
Me and you, we can't lose, I'll take you away from here
From the city that never loved you, from the town I always hated
Me and you, we can't lose

And maybe it was for the best, you used to call me useless
We're floating to the nothingness 'cause after all the truth is
The only things we leave behind are nos and absolution
I act like everything is fine, when I party, revolution

All I wanted was you, let's do whatever it takes
Me and you, we can't lose, I'll take you away from here
From the city that never loved you, from the town I always hated
Me and you, we can't lose

Woah, oh, oh, I'm with you
Woah, oh, oh, when I move
Woah, oh, oh
All that I wanted was you
