

Avril Lavigne, All You Will Never Know

You're indecisive when it comes to making any plans you're on the fence you give me reasons I never seem to understand, they don't make sense maybe ain't enough for my heart we'll see, ain't off to a great start baby, I want you to be mine, you better hurry cause if I change my mind

[Chorus]

You will never know, what it means, to love me
and you will never know, what these two lips taste like to kiss you can just suppose to what my body feels like to hold hope you can deal with, all you will never know

I wanna know you, what's hiding behind this wall who you really are I wanna meet you on the other side of this charade wherever the cards may fall I'm ready to give you my heart yea I'm willing to show up for my part baby, I want you to be mine,

[Chorus/bridge]

You will never know,
what it means, to love me
and you will never know,
about me, what I see, what I believe in, how I breathe, when I weep

[Chorus]
