

Away From Here, Sunday

My heart dropped to the floor
Could you pick it up for me I swear I'll get out the stains
Of my own bloody heart I just dont want you to leave me here by myself
With my heart on the floor
My greatest fear is to lose all touch with you
Without that touch
I'll be just a stupid shade of blue
And you dont know this
But Im falling in love with you
So promise that you will be back someday

If that someday is a sunday
I'll be waiting for you
If that someday is faraway
I'll be waiting for you
If that someday is never awake
It will drive me to the edge
If that someday is faraway
I'll be waiting for you

So what I wouldnt give
For a tall pint of gasoline
To take away everything maybe your love some day
So please just stay away
Away from here
But promise that
You will be back someday
