

Axxis, Another Day

Cold white frost melts on the green grass
As the sun begins to shine
As I wake up I was shure
That the world is gonna be mine
The first bird starts to sing
At the crack of dawn
The world is telling me
A new day is born
I feel the wind embracin' me
I'm thankful that I get to see
Another day - to live and say
I'm still alive - I've still survived
Another day - to find a way
For me to say
I still got you on my mind
Golden colours everywhere
The mornin' of my day
Words I said - things I've done
Are lost in yesterday
Like the sun find it's way
Through the night
You always fill my life with your light
Another day - to live and say
I'm still alive - I've still survived
Another day - to find my way
For me to say
I still got you on my mind
I feel the wind embracin' me
I'm thankful that I get to see
Another day - to live and say
I'm still alive - I've still survived
Another day - to find a way
For me to say
I still got you on my mind
