

Ayreon, Computer Reign (Game Over)

AYREON (IAN PARRY):

I see a future cold as ice,
Where all the love has gone.
I see a race that pays the price
For everything it's done.

I see shadows of giant machines,
Cast upon the land.
I see a world where kings nor queens,
But chips are in command.

WOMEN:

Now the end has just begun!
Technology has won!
And it cannot be undone!

AYREON:

There will be nowhere to run,
Now the damage has been done!
Game over! Game over!

I see a game gone out of hand,
And memories erased.
I see a programmed masterplan,
And man will be replaced.

I see a planet die in space,
And slowly fade away.
I see the end of the human race,
There has to be a way.

WOMEN:

Now the end has just begun!
Technology has won!
And it cannot be undone!

AYREON:

There will be nowhere to run,
Now the damage has been done!
Game over! Game over!
