

Ayria, Invisible

I sit next to you
You look the other way
You saw me falter for one second of the day
Why am I so invisible to you
Sometimes I hate you more than you could ever hate yourself

But I love you, would do anything for you
You don't even see that I'm in pain
Frustration became humiliation
Waiting outside for you in the pouring rain
Rain, rain
Rain, rain

Tried so hard to be someone
I never was nobody
Tried too hard to play this game
I never was the winner

Tried so hard to be someone
I never was nobody
Tried too hard to play this game
I never was the winner

What's left of my self worth you crushed it in your hand
Wicked game to torture me because you can
You toy with me then pull back
We're never synched in time, we blew that

The sad thing I've done the same before to someone else

But I love you, would do anything for you
You don't even see that I'm in pain
Frustration becomes humiliation
I'm waiting outside for you in the pouring rain
Rain, rain
Rain, rain

Tried so hard to be someone
I never was nobody
Tried too hard to play this game
I never was the winner

Tried so hard to be someone
I never was nobody
Tried too hard to play this game
I never was the winner

Tried so hard to be someone
I never was nobody
Tried too hard to play this game
I never was the winner

Tried so hard to be someone
I never was nobody
Tried too hard to play this game
I never was the winner

But I love you, would do anything for you
You don't even see that I'm in pain
Frustration became humiliation
Waiting outside for you in the pouring rain
Rain, rain
Rain, rain

Tried so hard to be someone
I never was nobody
Tried too hard to play this game
I never was the winner

Tried so hard to be someone
I never was nobody
Tried too hard to play this game
I never was the winner

Tried so hard to be someone
I never was nobody
Tried too hard to play this game
I never was the winner

Tried so hard to be someone
I never was nobody
Tried too hard to play this game
I never was the winner
