

Ayria, Sapphire

When I was a little girl
I never dreamt of terror
Is this all now that we are?
Connections have gone so wrong

I never meant to hurt myself
But I don't feel too nice today
And when you got in my way
I never meant to beat you
But now the damage is all done
Here comes the future
And it's not looking so bright
All the defenses I put up
I never thought I'd need them
But I'm disoriented
I can not find my way out
I'm stranded in my virtual world
Here comes the future
And it's not looking so bright

When I was a little girl
I never dreamt of terror
Is this all now that we are?
Connections have gone so wrong

All the hope is gone
You were right
All I ever wanted was the light
I never was myself all night
I put up my defense
I was right

I didn't know

I feel a stirring in you
