

Az Yet, Thru My Heart (The Arrow) quietly i watch you sleep... hopefully you wont hear what i say wondering if i turned the clouds... happy the moment i tasted your rain tonight was the night... that i saw my first sight of how pleasure wins over pain now i know what i know... dont wanna ever let you go i just hope that you feel the same chorus

you shot your arrow thru my restless, shaking heart you came down on me slow... drew back your bow my lady, you shot your arrow straight thru my heart i kiss your mouth and stroke your hair... intently, i hang on your every breath

i know what i'm feeling now is more than just lust for the sake of your flesh girl, i need you now... tried my best to learn how to be all that my words might say

caressing your skin... i never imagined that i'd ever feel this way

girl, i need you now... i'll try my best to learn how to be all that my words
might say
that i'd ever feel this way
