

Az Yet, What The Hell Do You Want

What the hell do you want from me?
Why the hell did you have to leave?

I gave you the best year of my miserable life
Every penny I made went to making your day
And making you smile
Now the well has run dry
Is that the reason you left?
Are you with another guy?
I need to know why 'cause I'm losing my head
What the hell do you want?

What the hell do you want from me?
Why the hell did you have to leave?
Was it something I said, or something I done
To make you want to run away from my love?
What the hell do you want from me?
Why the hell did you have to leave?
Was it something I said, or something I done
To make you want to run away

There's many other fish in the sea to be caught
So let me tell this, baby I'll be catching when I set it off
We had a good thing, but now it's time to move on
Stop blowing up my beeper
You made the choice to creep
But I got to be strong

What the hell do you want?

What the hell do you want from me?
Why the hell did you have to leave?
Was it something I said, or something I done
To make you want to run away from my love?
What the hell do you want from me?
Why the hell did you have to leave?
Was it something I said, or something I done
To make you want to run away

[instrumental w/ad-libs]

What the hell do you want from me?
Why the hell did you have to leave?
Was it something I said, or something I done
To make you run away
What the hell do you want from me?
Why the hell did you have to leave?
To make you want to run away
What the hell do you want from me?
Why the hell did you have to leave?
To make you want to run away

What the hell do you want from me?
Why the hell did you have to leave?
