

Azrael, Seventh Heaven

The wind calls your name forever blowing away days together I'm only a child but I feel like I will die tomorrow.
Something's wrong with me I see you every where and all the things you said to me now are burning in my head.
When I walk so lonely our pleasure is only a dream
I can't think about you anymore
I think all my life's been wasted.
We are in different plains
the sky is turning red I'm always on the road and I don't know the city where I'll stay something's wrong...
Through time and space
you are in me, girl
you are always in my dreams of love, peace and joy.
We touch our seventh heaven
but nothing lasts forever
maybe you'll fly free someday.
Can't live without love
My life's been wasted
now you've got the chance to change your life Stormy weather
I can't find any place to go My eyes can't see you but it seems like you are everywhere.
