

Aztec Camera, Song For A Friend

Words and music by Roddy Frame

hours,
you in the end,
that just devours,

female,
still and will not bend,
sunshine to surround you,

smart,
nothing,

confounds you,

Awake,
In winter's crystal
And give to what gets
For the sake of a love
And smiles and takes,
And lays you down again.
Run free
The moon is always Straight to what's Don't wait for his Consume and fake,
And let you down again.
Cos' life is short,
And you better get
To the people who know
And surround you.
Stand straight,
In what kills you and
And break its chains,
And still believe.
