

B.B. King, Ain't Nobody Home (With D'angelo)

Once upon a time, a long long time ago
Wherever you'd lead me, I would surely follow
Girl, you put me through some pain and misery
Now you are standing at my doorstep
Telling me how much you need me
Baby
(Nobody's home)
Ain't nobody home
(Nobody's home)
Ain't nobody home
How many times I begged you to come home
But you laughed at me and said let me alone
Through my burning tears, I saw you when you walked away
Now you're beggin' me to forgive you
But this time, baby, it's your turn to pay, baby, baby
(Nobody's home)
Ain't nobody home
(Nobody's home)
Ain't nobody home
Girl, I used to love you
Placed no one else above you
Gave you everything I own
You can't come back here
Ain't nobody home
Once upon a time, when you went on your way
Girl, I hoped and prayed, that you'd come back some day, baby
Time has made some changes, turned me upside down
Now you can beg me to forgive you, baby
But this time, it's girl turn to pay
Baby
(Nobody's home)
Ain't nobody home
(Nobody's home)
Ain't nobody home
Yeah
(Nobody's home)
You know, you hurt me one time too may
(Nobody's home)
Ain't nobody home
(Nobody's home)
Go get you somebody else to hurt, baby
(Nobody's home)
I can't take it no more
(Nobody's home)
Ain't nobody, nobody, baby
(Nobody's home)
Ain't nobody, nobody, baby
(Nobody's home)
Ain't nobody, nobody
(Nobody's home)
Nobody home
(Nobody's home)
(Nobody's home)
Ain't nobody home
Ain't nobody home
Ain't nobody home
There's nobody home
Ain't nobody home, baby, baby
