

B.B. King, There Must Be a Better World Somewhere

Sometimes I wonder, just what am I fighting for?
I win some battles, but I always lose the war
I keep right on stumblin' in this no-man's land out here
But I know, mmm yes, I know
There must be a better world somewhere
Flying high, some joker clips my wings
Just because he gets a kick out of doing those kind of things
I keep on fallin' in space or just hangin' in mid-air
But I know, oh yes I know
There has just got to be a better world somewhere
Every woman I want only wants herself
Everybody I love, seems to love somebody else
And every woman got a license to break my heart
And every love affair is over, over before it gets a chance to start, yeah
If it ain't dead, maybe in the year after
Instead of tears, I'll learn all about laughter
But meanwhile I'm stuck out here
It just ain't fair, but I know, I said I know, oh yes I know
There must be a better world somewhere
There's just gotta be, gotta be a better world somewhere
