

Baby Animals, Lights Out At Eleven (29.2.92)

(DeMarchi/Parise/Leslie)

How can you rest when you're not tired

How can you live when all hope has expired

You don't know what you're missing

I hope you know that you're missed

He can't confide in suicide

He can't pretend it's a justified end

Look for the spirit by your side

He's holding hands with you my friend

You my friend

Ooh my friend

A moment's problem brings a lifeless solution

And then he turned out the lights at eleven

You don't know what you're missing

I hope you know that you're missed

He can't confide in suicide

He can't pretend it's a justified end

Look for the spirit by your side

He's holding hands with you my friend

He can't confide in suicide

He can't pretend it's a justified end

Look for the spirit by your side

He's holding hands with you my friend

You my friend

Ooh my friend
