

Baby Bird, I Didn't Want To Wake You Up

The other night, I saw you lying there,
I didn't want to wake you up
The next day, I saw you lying there,
I didn't want to wake you up
The next evening, I saw you lying there
You hadn't moved an inch
The next day, I saw you lying there,
I wish that i could wake you up

Sha la sha la sha la
The next day, I shouted in your ear,
I wish that I could wake you up
The next week I kicked you in the head
I wish that I could wake you up
Three days later you're underground
I wish that I could wake you up
Three years later you're underground
I wish that I could wake you up
The other evening, I had a dream
You came into my head
I tried to touch you, I tried to kiss you,
I couldn't wake you up
My hands went through you, I grabbed the pillow,
I cut the f**ker up
I really need you, I really miss you
I want to wake you up

Five years later, you're underground
I wish that I could wake you up
Ten years later, you're underground
I wish that I could wake you up
Fifteen years later, you're underground
I wish that I could wake you up
Twenty years later, you're underground
I wish that I could wake you up
