

Backandtotheleft, Conquest

Unleash the dogs of war tonight
Underneath the red moonlight the stars above us tumble from our might
We see our enemy at a glance
There will be no second chance
We hear our rally cry and make our final stance
Pay the highest price
your life is but a sacrifice
And in the end they&#039;ll know our name
Raging hostility
Borders inhumanity
But victors know their moves
Plotting frame by frame

And if its &quot;war!&quot; they shout
We&#039;ll take our sides and call them out to fight
And march the dance of noble men
But if you charge at once I will stand my ground
And face your wrath
I&#039;ll walk away with your blood on my hands

Gunshots ring out as the troops stand tall
Terror raised in this epic brawl
Only the weakest men will stumble and fall
As night fall perishes to the sun
We&#039;ll be the triumphant ones
The altercation&#039;s over, but our conquest&#039;s just begun
Pay the highest price
Your life is but a sacrifice
And in the end they&#039;ll know our name
Raging hostility
Borders inhumanity
But victors know their moves
Plotting fram by frame

And if its &quot;war!&quot; they shout
We&#039;ll take our sides and call them out to fight
And march the dance of noble men
But if you charge at once I will stand my ground
And face your wrath
I&#039;ll walk away with your blood on my hands
