

Backandtotheleft, The Happy Song

Life is so funny but it's true
This animosity that i feel for you
Hypocrisy could go on
If this hatred wasn't so strong
You think this song is about you
Well, you need to get a clue

Cause if you dont stay away
I swear to god you'll rue the day you met me
This shining bullet is the final storm that your eyes will see
Wicked jabs at fate will only collaborate a genuine guise of dispise
A burn deep inside in which you'll now realise

I gave you credit up 'til this far
You dulled your mind with drugs and kicked the windshield out of my car
And yet you want another chance
A problematic victim of circumstance
Everything is all about you
Nothing else will do
But soon you will see
You're poison to me

Cause if you dont stay away
I swear to god you'll rue the day you met me
This shining bullet is the final storm that your eyes will see
Wicked jabs at fate will only collaborate a genuine guise of dispise
A burn deep inside in which you'll now realise

This should have been a happy song
One of those pleasant tunes we all could sing along
Yet you wanted a way for your ego to be displayed
Are you so happy now? so poorly dismayed

Cause if you dont stay away
I swear to god you'll rue the day you met me
This shining bullet is the final storm that your eyes will see
Wicked jabs at fate will only collaborate a genuine guise of dispise
A burn deep inside in which you'll now realise
