

Backfire!, The Way I Live

how ay i live people say i must change my ways i can't keep on living from day to day i've got to think of what lies ahead cause i might end up with regret but i won't waste no fucking time cause i've seen things change so radically and happiness became misery through this last years one thing i've learned you never know when the tables turn that's why i live from day to day i can't live for tomorrow 'cause i don't know what may come my way gonna live life to the fullest and be grateful for every day try to enjoy all the good things life will give and i know that's the way i'll always live through good and bad i will keep movin' on no matter what i will overcome
