

Backseat Goodbye, Good Luck

tripped one day in the middle of the road no one saw me, no one told me not to go and so i fell the sky felt tight in the middle of the night but i kept walking no one told me not to sigh 'cause i can't go back the clouds pulled my hair and called me names i just closed my eyes and lied &quot;it'll all be over before you know it&quot;; well the rain dried up and the nightmares ran you said you could finally smile again it feels good to be home you gave me a flower, yellow, sunburned skin said &quot;good morning, sunshine, it'll all be over soon&quot;; wake up good luck good morning i'm so glad to see your face wake up good luck good morning we're gonna make it just you wait i feel so alive
good morning sunshine
