

Backstreet Boys, Last Night You Saved My Life

Backstreet Boys
Never Gone (Unreleased)
Last Night You Saved My Life
Yeah, yeah, yeah
Yeah, yeah, yeah

Its 3 am, I cant sleep
Too late to call this is not like me
But Im still lifted from the tattoo on the small of your back
The angle of your chin when you were looking back

See, god youre beautiful and Im still coming down
Id like a one-night stand that had to stick around
But Im still floating from the perfume you left on my sheets
I havent changed a thing since your goodbye to me

Tonight I stare out the window
Knowing Ill never again be alone

Last night you changed my life
And I was stuck in the moment that you kissed me the first time
Last night you saved my life with your love
Saved my life
Last night you saved my life

Your fingernails running down my spine
All day I hear your voice like velvet in my mind
Its like I knew you all my life even though we just met
My children in your eyes, something you dont expect

I had to stop myself from calling all day long
Im glad you called me first, I wanted to be strong
But you were laughing because I answered after just one ring
I tried to play it off
But you knew everything

Last night you changed my life
And I was stuck in the moment that you kissed me the first time
Last night you saved my life with your love
Saved my life (saved my life)
Last night you saved my life with your love

Last night you saved my life (saved my life)
Last night you saved my life

Ohh yeah

I stare at the sky looking for the morning sun
Cant wait to tell you youre the only one
Last night you saved my life

And I was stuck in the moment you kissed me the first time
Last night you saved my life with your love
Saved my life (saved my life)
Last night you changed my life