

Bad Astronaut, The Passenger

Wait,
planet earthquake,
planet heartbreak, give me this day.

Dates
pass through a maze;
Are you okay? Are you awake?
Pride,
yours flies too high;
Yours is too great; yours is to die.

I,
I'm taking no side
I'm going under, for once alive.

Wait, falling airplanes...

Today,
my worries fade away
in suspended dream state,
somehow I knew.
Erased, everything stops now.

And now I crash with them;
I am a bank deposit,
I'm held accomplice to man's will...
The faith transcending reason,
The passenger descending,
And in an instant time stands still.

Fade,
planet heartbreak (Stop thinking).
