

Bad Boys Blue, Warm And Tender Love

I've travelled 'round so many lands
The time was melting in my hands
And where the desert meets the sky
I saw the fires die
All years have come and gone
But still my love for you is strong
I'm coming back from shadowland
I'm coming back, give me your hand
Can't you hear the train?
The train at midnight
Can't you hear the train?
The train at midnight
The train at midnight
Have I been far away too long?
Our feelings dead and gone
Will it all end in hurt and pain
It matches end in rain
The world keeps turning on and on
And the still the fever's growing strong
I'm coming back, I'm on my way
I'm coming back, give me your hand
Can't you hear the train?
The train at midnight
Can't you hear the train?
The train at midnight
The train at midnight
Can't you hear the train?
The train at midnight
The train at midnight
The train at midnight
Can't you hear the train?
The train at midnight
The train at midnight
I'm coming back from shadowland
I'm coming back, give me your hand
Can't you hear the train?
The train at midnight
Can't you hear the train?
The train at midnight
The train at midnight
The train at midnight
Can't you hear the train?
