

Badfinger, Passed Fast

You rise and sing the glory of the future that is passed make it last
Lost inside the reason of a love I hope will last we can fast
Come on, your highest hope the hopes, the dreams will last
Nothing is impossible you know what you must do
The flame the hopes will see you through

Time will not let you wait this time it's tearing you apart let it start
Nothing can deny it all the love that's in your heart in my heart

Come on, your highest hope the hopes, the dreams will last
The future promises will pass
Nothing is impossible you know what you must do
The flame the hopes will see you through are you through
