

Badlands, In A Dream

When I'm down and feeling low
And confusion has touched my soul
How I need some place where I can hide away
Let me fall within your arms
Melt away this cold I feel
All I need is to hold you tonight
Hold me close when I'm cold
Let me hear your beating heart
Close my eyes far away in a dream
In the morning I wake
And I'm blessed by God's grace
Just to open my eyes, see your face
Hold you tonight, sweet child
Never let me go
Tell me everything, oh, will be alright
In the morning I awake
And I'm blessed by God's grace
Just to open my eyes, see your face
Just to open my eyes to see your face
