

Ball In The House, One Man

She comes in the mornin'
She carries a light in her hand
She goes in the evenin'
She takes it away again
She owns all my being
She changes the night into day
She makes all I'm seeing
Then she just takes it away
I am only one man
All I can blame is myself
I am only one man
All I can blame is myself
She knows all the faithful
She knows all my sins
And every mornin' I wake up grateful she's considering letting me in
I am only one man
All I can blame is myself
I am only one man
All I can blame is myself
I can't hold on
To all things passing by
I can't hold on
Life is raging and I am only one man
All I can blame is myself
I am only one man
And all I can blame
I am only one man
All I can blame, all I can blame is myself
All I can blame....
I am only one man
And all I can blame is myself
I am only one man
All I can blame is myself
