Bamboo, Break On The Though

Some down, some down Right before your eyes Some down, some down Right before your eyes

Though that they destroy the night And not devides the day I try to run I try to hide Break on through to the otherside

And so we change the pleasures in Though I treasures in We can still recall The time I've cried Break on through to the otherside

Everybody loves my baby Everybody loves my baby

If i will cut three in your arm
I will move your eyes
Arms that change us
Eyes that lies
Break on through to the otherside
Break unto to the otherside uh ho

yeah the weak day, The day of our hour Sending wheels of power Yes that, give us smile

oh yes over, over, over
