

Bananarama, FEEL THE LOVE

Feel the earth beneath my feet
Hear the sounds just stop and breathe

Close your eyes, feel the breeze
Hear it dancing through the trees
It's calling you, it's calling you

So feel the love
Look at the stars tonight
See how they light the sky, they light the way
(Feel the love, feel the love, feel the love)

Whatever you're feeling now
Always believe that you will find the way
Don't you wait now

All you are is all you need
Let it lead you, let it be
It's calling you, it's calling you
It's calling you, it's calling you

Don't think it's not enough
When others doubt it, trust yourself because
You have it all
Listen to your heart and feel the love

Look at the stars tonight
See how they light the sky, they light the way
(Feel the love, feel the love, feel the love)

Whatever you're feeling now
Always believe that you will find the way
Don't you wait now

Don't think it's not enough
When others doubt it, trust yourself because
You have it all
Listen to your heart and feel the love

Look at the stars tonight
See how they light the sky, they light the way
Whatever you're feeling now
Always believe that you will find the way
Don't you wait now
