In the court of the great Khan and beyond

You can hear the legends of my fame
In my peacock driven carriage I have come to you

Tell me everything about your troubles
Nothing is mysterious to me, and I can heal you

Maybe I will cost you dearly:
But does it really matter

It&#039;s only money I&#039;m here for you.
If you need help for your troubled soul

You have found the very one you need in me
My dear friend I don&#039;t ask much not really
I&#039;m only here for money, after all It&#039;s only money
