

Bane, In Pieces

No matter how much I say that I have learned life's lessons, the only way to know life's lessons is when it smacks you right in the face.
Rubberband stretched to the limit, but still I cannot help but pull it just a little bit more.
Once again my whole world crumbles, walls cave in, and I fall backwards, everything I know taken
Hands stuffed deep into my mouth to keep from choking on the words that show how much I know
I know that these days will have an end, just like I know that I'll be back again.
This place is awful, but it's familiar.
