

Bang Gang, Forever Now

You can see her in the distance, where she walks alone.
Then you follow her direction, to your second home

The evening grabs us in the sounds we are bound we sit and watch the sun moving down it feels so good to have you around wish we could stay forever, have forever now.

She has jammed you with suggestions and you like to know why she seduced your inner conscience, where she wants to go.

The evening grabs us in the sounds we are bound
wish we could stay forever, have forever now we listen to the silence streaming memories they take us back to the day we met where we ran with kissing will we ever have this feeling again

the evening grabs us in the sounds we are bound
wish we could stay forever, have forever now

wish we could stay forever, have forever now
wish we could stay forever, have forever now
