Bangles, The
Different Light
In A Different Light
(v. peterson/s. hoffs)
Vicki

I see you in a different light
I see you in a different light

I wanna make a movie
I wanna put you on the silver screen
Sit in a darkened room and look at you from a distance

Wanna write a novel
Freeze all your expressions into words
Come back later and read about what i should have heard

I see you in a different light
I see you in a different light

I want to paint your portrait
Hang your colors on my wall
Discussing form and content with my friends and drinks
And no one thinks at all

I see you in a different light
I see you in a different light
