

BANKS, I Still Love You

Sure I know I haven't been around
I've been away way too long
I don't know your bruises
Or where you've been lately
But I know I still love you

I don't know where you go on Friday nights
I don't know your current favorite song
But I know that how I drive it drives you crazy
And I know I still love you

I still love you
I still want you
Get to know me once more baby
With all your issues
I still miss you
Haven't met one like you baby

I don't know where you see yourself in twenty years
I know know if you still smoke weed
You probably do
But I know that all my cussing drives you crazy
And I know I still love you

I still love you
I still want you
Get to know me once more baby
With all your issues
I still miss you
Haven't met one like you baby

I still love you
I still want you
Get to know me once more baby
With all your issues
I still miss you
Haven't met one like you baby
