

Banks Tony, Big Man

Big Man

The hot seat's vacant cos he gave up the reins
He's kissed his title goodbye run far away
He's gone to ground in some hole - I don't know where
All I know is somehow that I'm big man up here

I don't need your worship
Just need a sacrifice each day
No need to worry
Just want to help in every way

I just don't know what all these levers are for
I don't know it but I'm reasonably sure
I've got a red light warning - I don't know why
Maybe it will go away if I close my eyes

I don't need your worship
Just need a sacrifice each day
No need to worry
Just want to help in every way
Help every day
In every way

I don't know what's come over me
I'm really feeling rather strange

I got no time for wisdom cos I'm the fool
I got no time for those who won't obey my rules
Some day I won't be teacher - I don't know when
But I'm gonna please myself until then

I don't need your worship
Just need a sacrifice each day
No need to worry
Just want to help in every way
Help every day
In every way
