

Banks Tony, Water Out Of Wine

Banks Tony

Still

Water Out Of Wine

In the dark it seems so easy now

If you could just remember how the problem can be solved

The sun comes up lightening the sky

But everyday is the same

Doubts return and the answers desert you

Fragments fall around you

All shot down in flames

Suddenly now you know that it can never be the same

All of the hopes and dreams and promises

You made have upped and gone

Bringing boredom out of wonder, water out of wine

By the fire cheered up by the flames

Watching people on the TV

Thinking I can do the same

The sun goes down darkening the sky

Leave things undecided

Lest the thinking cause you pain

So everyday is the same

You know what to do, just how eludes you

Fragments fall around you

All shot down in flames

Suddenly now you know that it can never be the same

All of the hopes and dreams and promises

You made have upped and gone

Bringing boredom out of wonder, water out of wine

Look into the glass

Can you still recall

That bundle of potential

That you were when you were young

The sun comes up lightening the sky

The sun goes down darkening the sky

So everyday is the same

Till the day when the dreaming is over

Fragments fall around you

All shot down in flames

Suddenly now you know that it can never be the same

All of the hopes and dreams and promises

You made have upped and gone

Bringing boredom out of wonder, water out of wine
