

Barbara Mason, From This Woman To You

Hello Barbara, this is Shirley
And I just happened to be
Now wait a minute, Shirley
I'm a young woman
And I can't afford to do
All the things you do for this man
I don't even have a job
And I can't buy his clothes, pay his car note
And I surely can't keep money in his pockets
But I can give him what he needs, when he needs it
And that's all he expects from me, I can give him love
From his woman to you
There's a thing or two I'd like to say
I don't care to claim this man
I'm gonna love him anyway
Woman to woman
He spent last night with me
Stayed here
