

Barbra Streisand, Above He Law

This is me talking to you
Tell me what your heart can do?
Take me by surprise, whatever you see
You'll never be alone with me
I close or open the door
Telling you that less is more
You cannot disguise whatever you do
No one is above the law
In these dark and troubled times
People just surviving
We live a double life
You'd be safe and warm at home
Something else is going on
We don't have to kiss and say no more about it
And if your eyes are watching me
Baby, life could be so beautiful
And we become invisible
The pleasure is the punishment
For the crime
Break away the chains that bind
It's not enough to be satisfied, it's knowing how it all begins
Or knowing where the heart belongs
And we all make mistakes
It's your heart and my heart
And no one can take part
And our love
Is love above the law
So you decide we go insane
I know what you came here for
Whether you are mine, I'll never be sure
We'll ever be above the law

On this dark and stormy night
Where these walls may hide us
The walls may hide us
You sigh and let me in
You let me hold you in these arms of mine
(One flame inside)
Tomorrow is eternity
Temptation eyes
And we may get to kiss and say no more about it
(No tears to cry)
And if my eyes are watching you
Baby, life could be so beautiful, so beautiful
And everything is possible, everything is possible
And we become invisible, we become invisible
It's your heart and my heart
And no one can take part
I'll always be with you
It's what I'm living for
The end of my rainbow
Is outside your window
And our love is one love
Love above the law, love above the law
It's your heart and my heart
And no one can take part
I'll always be with you
It's what I'm living for, it's what I'm living for
The end of my rainbow
Is outside your window
And our love is one love