

Barbra Streisand, Above The Law (Duet With Bar

This is me talking to you
Tell me what your heart can do ?
Tell me by surprise, whatever you see
You'll never be alone with me

I close or open the door
Telling you that less is more
You cannot disguise whatever you do
No one is above the law

In these dark and troubled times
People just surviving
We live a double life

You'd be safe and warm at home
Something else is going on
We don't have to kiss and say no more about it
And if your eyes are watching me

Baby, life could be so beautiful
And we become invisible
The pleasure is the punishment
For the crime

Break away the chains that bind
It's not enough to be satisfied
It's knowing how it all begins
Or knowing where the heart belongs
And we all make mistakes

It's your heart and my heart
And no one can take part
And our love
Is love above the law

So you decide we go insane
I know what you came here for
Whether you are mine
I'll never be sure
We'll ever be above the law

On this dark and stormy night
Where these walls may hide us
You sigh and let me in

You let me hold you in these arms of mine
(One flame inside)
Tomorrow is eternity
(Temptation eyes)
And we may get to kiss and say no more about it
(No tears to cry)
And if my eyes are watching you

Baby, life could be so beautiful
And everything is possible
And we become invisible

It's your heart and my heart
I'll always be with you
It's what I'm living for

The end of my rainbow

Is outside your window
And our love is one love
Love above the law
